

June 12th - 14th, 2013 • Columbia University • New York, NY, USA

ICE LW is an international conference focused on e-learning in the workplace. With researchers and practitioners coming from around the globe—and from university and business settings—ICELW works to improve online learning so that it makes a measurable difference in workplace performance and morale.

By uniting the corporate and academic worlds, ICELW is creating a new synergy—one with the unique capability to realize the vast potential of e-learning in business and industry.

Who Should Present or Participate?

ICELW welcomes anyone with a background or interest in e-learning in the workplace—researchers, consultants, and corporate trainers, managers, and directors.

Conference Topics

The ICELW program will explore a wide range of topics relating to e-learning in the workplace:

- Online training methodologies (simulations, case-based learning, and more)
- Performance support systems
- Just-in-time learning
- Mobile learning, including the use of iPads, smartphones, and other mobile devices
- Collaborative and social learning
- E-learning design
- E-learning usability studies
- Success stories and case studies
- E-learning experiences in large and small organizations

Call for Proposals

Deadline: December 19, 2012

- Authoring tools and Learning Content Management Systems (LCMSs)
- E-learning evaluation
- Studies of e-learning in practice
- E-learning project management
- The use of virtual worlds in e-learning
- Communities of practice
- Other pertinent topics from the ICELW community

The conference will use a variety of engaging formats to convey knowledge and show application, such as presentations, panel discussions, demonstrations, and brainstorming sessions.

Submissions

If you're interested in presenting at ICELW, please submit a proposal describing your session: what you'd like to present or discuss, and what session format you envision. Please use the ICELW submission form found at www.icelw.org and send your form to proposals@icelw.org. Proposals are due on December 19, 2012.

Questions or More Information?

Visit www.icelw.org for more details or send an e-mail to info@icelw.org