

Announcing the Winners of the 2010 International E-Learning Awards!

We are pleased to announce the winners of the 2010 International E-Learning Awards! Awards were given in both the academic and business/professional categories for e-learning, blended learning, and mobile learning. Submissions were received from 26 countries overall.

Congratulations to all our winners, and look for the Call for Submissions for the 2011 International E-Learning Awards coming soon, via e-mail and on the International E-Learning Association web site at <http://www.ielassoc.org> !

2010 International E-Learning Awards - Award Recipients

Winner, Academic E-Learning

“The IR Model: Dissertation Module”

Beyond Distance Research Alliance, University of Leicester, Leicester, Leicestershire, UK

Representative: Simon Kear

Winner, Academic Blended Learning

“Space Trainees”

MediaCity, Vasa, Finland

Representative: Simon Staffans

Winner, Business/Professional E-Learning

“ePhysicianHealth.com”

Faculty Wellness Program, Faculty of Medicine, University of Ottawa, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada

Representatives: Derek Puddester and Emma Stodel

Winner, Business/Professional Mobile Learning

“Operation Numerika” on Nintendo DS

Epic Performance Improvement Ltd, Brighton, East Sussex, United Kingdom

Representative: Alec Keith

Winner, Business/Professional Blended Learning

“Brand Edge –marketing capability program delivering brand growth in GSK worldwide”, GlaxoSmithKline with agency partners Oxford Strategic Marketing (consulting & capability building), Push Thinking (internal communications), and TRiBECA (eLearning, knowledge architecture, web development)

Representative: André Moa, TRiBECA, London, UK

Runner-Up, Academic E-Learning

“Distributed Software Development Course”

University of Zagreb, Faculty of Electrical Engineering and Computing, Zagreb, Croatia

Representative: Mario Zagar

Runner-Up, Academic E-Learning

“MySelf e-Portfolio”

University of Piraeus, Department of Digital Systems, Athens, Greece

Representatives: Fotini Paraskeva and Aikaterini Alexiou

Runner-Up, Academic Blended Learning

“Managing and Organizing Information” Course Website

Institute of Public Administration, Riyadh, Saudi Arabia

Representative: Dr. Ajlan M. Alshehri

Runner-Up, Academic Blended Learning

ANNOUNCING THE WINNERS OF THE 2010 INTERNATIONAL E-LEARNING AWARDS!

“Web 2.0 Knowledge Map”, ZLW – Center for Learning and Knowledge Management & IMA – Institute of Information Management in Mechanical Engineering & ifU – Institute for Management Cybernetics, RWTH Aachen University, Aachen, Germany
Representative: Sabina Jeschke

Runner-Up, Business/Professional E-Learning

“CoachTrue Elite”
World Anti-Doping Agency and Web Courseworks, Montreal, Canada and Madison, WI, USA
Representative: Aileen Zhang

Runner-Up, Business/Professional E-Learning

“VISTA Civil Rights and Responsibilities Course”
Education Northwest, Portland, Oregon, USA
Representative: Angela Nicholas

Honorable Mention, Academic E-Learning

“Fish – Market”, Pädagogische Hochschule Salzburg, Salzburg, Austria
Representative: Uwe Gutwirth

Honorable Mention, Academic E-Learning

“MUS241: Music Appreciation”
The University of North Carolina at Greensboro Division of Continual Learning,
Greensboro, North Carolina, USA
Representative: Coventry Kessler

Congratulations to all of our 2010 winners, the quality of submissions was excellent!

David Guralnick
President
International E-Learning Association