

International E-Learning Awards, Academic Division - 2013 Winners

The International E-Learning Awards, Academic Division recognize the best uses of technology for educational purposes in three subcategories: e-learning, mobile learning, and blended learning. All submissions are evaluated by the IELA Awards Committee, who look for a variety of attributes. These include, among others, educational soundness and effectiveness, usability, and overall significance.

The 2013 award winners were announced at our Awards Ceremony in Kazan, Russia at the ICL Conference on September 26, 2013. Information regarding the submission process and deadlines for the 2014 Awards, for both the Academic and Business categories, may be found under the Awards Program tab at www.ielassoc.org.
